DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-14 are pending. Claims 1-9 are still withdrawn from consideration as being drawn to a non-elected invention.
2. The December 22, 2006 Rejection is withdrawn. Again, the Examiner regrets the lack of compact prosecution.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 10-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wolven et al. US 6,246,994.

Wolven discloses a distribution center, e.g. Figs. 1-4B, comprising at least one identified article, and an order receiving unit, e.g. 20, and inventory, e.g. information on the individual. Wolven does not disclose a shoe last. Official Notice is taken that shoe distribution centers associated with customer last orders for footwear has been common knowledge in the shoe distribution art. To have provided such with the custom ordering system of Wolven would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art. The motivation for having done such would have been to facilitate well known shoe sale commerce to increase sales.

5. Further pertinent references of interest are noted on the attached PTO-892.
